French government debt news

Laurent Fabius, Minister for the Economy, Finance and Industry, announces that France has issued EUR 6.5 billion worth of new inflation-indexed OAT (fungible Treasury bonds) linked to the euro-area Harmonised Index of Consumer Prices (excluding tobacco). This amount, which obviously guarantees the liquidity of the secondary market, comprises EUR 4 billion in direct subscriptions and EUR 2.5 billion to be exchanged for the inflation-indexed OATi maturing in July 2009. The real interest yield for this issue is 2.98%.

The geographical sources of the direct subscriptions are as follows: France, EUR 1.1 billion (26%); euro area excluding France, EUR 1.2 billion (31%); and world excluding the euro area, EUR 1.7 billion (43%).

According to the information available, this EUR 6.5 billion in bonds will initially be held by various types of owners, including long-term European funds, money-market funds, financial and banking institutions, bank asset-liability management concerns and a few central banks.

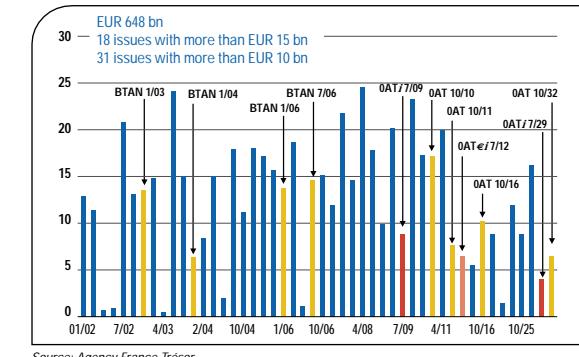

The volume of demand for the issue, the diversity of its geographical origins and the range of subscriber categories attest to the success of an initiative aimed at developing the euro market, and confirm the appeal of French government securities on this market which extends far beyond our borders.

Successful launch of the new benchmark European inflation linked

EUR 6.5 bn bond issue for Agence France Trésor

Launched on October 25, 2001, Agence France Trésor's first ever bond linked to the eurozone's HICP ex-tobacco inflation rate received an outstanding reception.

A first of its kind, this marks a development in the growth of the inflation linked bond market as a global asset class.

With this innovative instrument, Agence France Trésor aimed to reach a wider international client investor base and target new pockets of placements. Undoubtedly, this was achieved : 26% were placed in France, 31% in the eurozone, and 43% for the rest of the world (of which 12.5% was sold to investors in the US). Against the background of falling inflation rate, demand was extremely strong translating the interest for this new product.

On one hand, most eurozone investors see this inaugural eurozone inflation index-linked bond as a better instrument to hedge national domestic inflation than French inflation index-linked products, as reflected in the geographical distribution. On the other hand, this new product allows non-eurozone investors, especially those holding TIPS, to express their relative view on both the US and on the euro, the two key economic zones.

Not only was it a success in terms of a wide geographical split, but also in terms of investors profile which included asset managers, money market funds, banks, insurance companies, pension funds and corporates. Overall there were 288 orders in the book.

Investor enthusiasm was echoed in the book building process which amounted to EUR 9.5 bn with large demand surging in the last two hours. Such strong demand led to the final amount being set at EUR 6.5 bn, well above Agence France Trésor's initial expectations of between EUR 3 and 5 bn.

Another aspect of the project was the articulation of the new product with the outstanding French inflation linkers. Out of the issued amount, EUR 4 bn came from direct subscriptions and the other EUR 2.5 bn was paid with OATI 3% 2009 linked to French inflation. Pricing was fair with the final yield launched at 2.98%. The majority of bids were placed at the re-offer price clearly showing investors' confidence.

The broad variety in terms of investor type as well as geographical split proves again the strong position of AFT as one of the prime benchmark issuers in Europe. This groundbreaking transaction will definitely lead other issuers to consider issuing eurozone index-linked issues.
